REPUBLICANS SHATTER ALL RECORDS

DEMOCRATS WIN ALL OFFICES IN COUNTY RACE

Courthouse and Hospital
Issues Lost According To Figures.

The propositions for a bond issue to build a county courthouse and one for building a county hospital have both been lost, according to unofficial figures compiled by the Ada News from the returns filed with the county clerk. The courthouse proposition is apparently lost by 37 votes. A majority of 780 votes was cast against the hospital proposition.

The democrats carried every office in the county by wide margins over the republican candidates. The final returns cut down the democratic presidential candidate's lead as well as the anticipated lead of Scott Ferris over Harrel.

The entire county vote was as follows:

For president—Cox 3792, Harding 2467.

For senator—Ferris 3840, Harrel 2369.

For congressman—McKeown 4575, Pringley 2173.

For representative—Pratt 3595, Manville 2500.

County Offices.

For county judge—Crawford, democrat, 4086. For county attorney, Wadlington, democrat, 4038.

For sheriff—Duncan, 4165, Johnson 1944. For court clerk—Franklin 4033, Priest 1950. For county clerk—Rit Erwin 4062, Small 1914.

For county treasurer—Swaffar 4018, Miller 1916.

For county tax assessor—Heard 4084, Merritt 1956.

For county superintendent of education—Floyd, democrat, 4084.

For county surveyor—Harbert 3980.

For county weigher—Ward 4016, Connor 1969.

For commissioner, first district—Stephens 1647, Leonard 940.

For commissioner, second district—Brents 772, Van Zandt 623.

For commissioner, third district—Laughlin 1224, Brandon 862.

Proposition for a bond issue to build a county courthouse—For 2240, against 2277.

Proposition for a bond issue to build a county hospital—For 1748, against 2528.

Business Houses of City to Close on Armistice Day

The News is informed by the business men of the city that an agreement has been reached among the merchants to the effect that all business houses of the city will close November 11, Armistice Day.

The governor has declared the day a holiday, and while no precedent has been established it is believed that Armistice Day will become a holiday just as the Fourth of July or any other holiday already recognized.

As we go to press today no formal agreement has been made between the banks, but is almost certain that they, too, will close for the day.

The American Legion is planning a program and it is expected that the day will be generally observed as a holiday throughout the state.

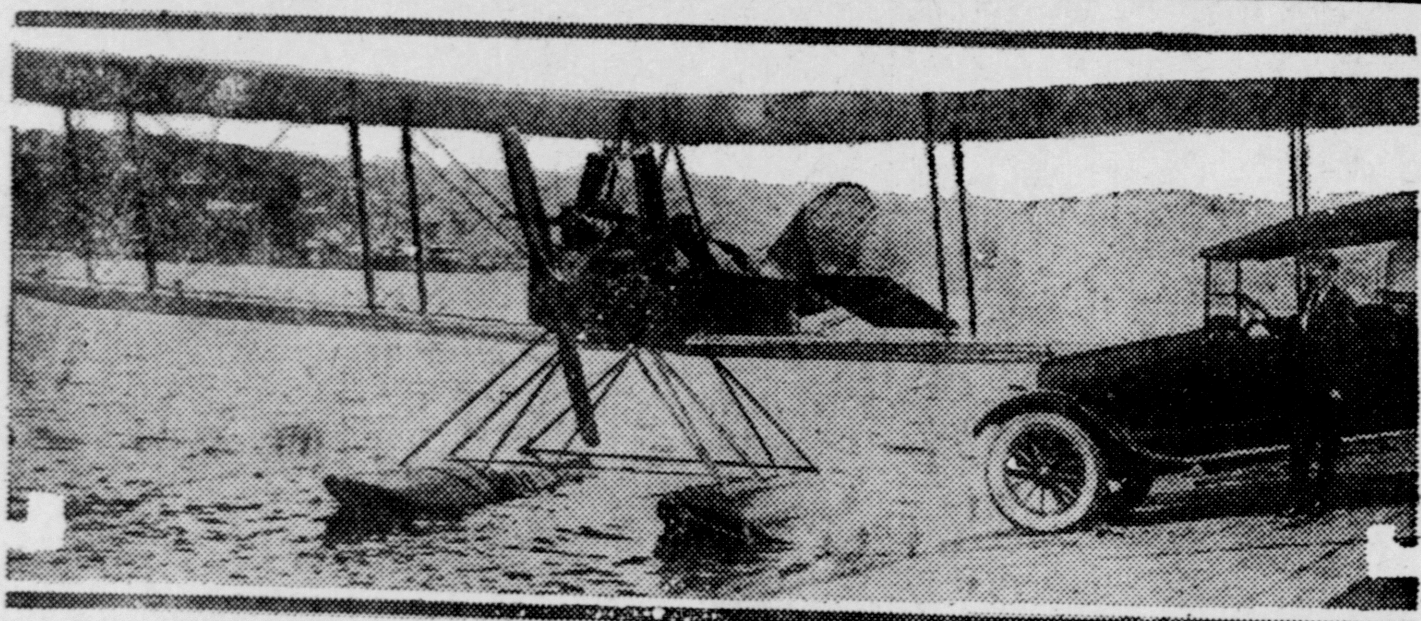

Salvation Army Appeal To Be Made Thursday

H. F. Mathis, chairman of the finance committee of the local Salvation Army advisory board, called a meeting of his committee this morning to arrange plans for completing the annual appeal for funds for the Salvation Army. It was decided to make the final appeal on Thursday of next week. On that day the solicitors will visit all persons who have not already been approached, and will give them the opportunity to help the cause financially.

JUDGE M'KEOWN ADMITS DEFEAT

Ada Congressman Defeated
By Negro Votes in District.

Complete returns from all the nine counties of the fourth congressional district show that Congressman Tom D. McKeown of Ada was defeated in Tuesday's election by 1426 votes. While returns are not official they are approximately correct and show that the district has gone republican.

Judge McKeown carried six of the nine counties of his district. His majorities in these counties were: Pontotoc, 1963; Coal, 325; Johnston, 328; Okfuskee, 26; Pott, 799; Hughes, 611. Pringley carried three counties by the following majorities: Lincoln, 2319; Creek, 2,043; Seminole, 1,007.

It was the negro vote in Creek and Seminole counties that upset the democratic majority in the district. In Creek county a thousand negroes had been registered by the republican organization, while the democrats in Seminole county registered another thousand negroes just before the recent county seat election between Wewoka and Seminole. These voted as a unit for the republican ticket, thus insuring the election of a republican to congress.

Judge McKeown conceded his defeat this afternoon in the following statement:

"Returns from all the counties of the Fourth district show beyond question that my opponent, Mr. Pringley of Chandler, has been elected to congress from this district. While these returns are not official, they are sufficiently authentic to settle the fact that the district has gone republican. I concede that Mr. Pringley has been elected.

"I am more than gratified by the magnificent majority given me by my neighbors in Pontotoc county and by the uncalculated support accorded me by my friends throughout the district. No candidate ever received more loyal support from his friends. We were simply unable to beat the republican landslide and have been outvoted, but I shall ever remember the loyalty of those who followed me to defeat.

"I wish to assure my friends of my lasting gratitude and place myself at their service in every possible way. They did not forget me when I needed them and I shall never forsake them when they have need of me.

"Very respectfully,
"TOM D. M'KEOWN."

JUDGE ANDERSON WILL HEAR CASE OF ATTY. GENERAL

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 4.—Attorney General Palmer was advised in a telegram from the United States district judge, Anderson, today that an investigation of the attorney general's connection with the case against 125 coal mine operators and miners would be made when the trial of the case begins here November 2.

Commissioner Smith has two road dragging crews at work on the east end roads, and a great improvement in these roads is reported.

REPUB. WOMAN BEATS HASTINGS

On the Face of Early Returns Miss Robertson Wins.

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4.—Miss Alice Robertson, who came to the old Indian Territory behind an ox cart as a child more than sixty years ago, with her missionary father to teach the Indians the gospel of the white man, apparently has defeated Mr. Hastings, one of Oklahoma's oldest democratic congressmen, as the representative of the second district.

Miss Robertson has played a picturesque role in the history of the Indian Territory and Oklahoma. She was postmistress of Muskogee under the late Theodore Roosevelt, and is said to have been the only woman postmistress in a city of the first class in the country at that time.

Muskogee county, the home of Miss Robertson, went against her and Cherokee county, Hastings' home county, went for Miss Robertson.

Professor Ichabod Believes Canines Of Ada Are Now Better Off Dead

"What Sherman said about war would be but a mild description of 'politics,'" announced Professor P. Alexis Ichabod, B. V. D., S. O. S., as he walked into the News office this morning. He wore a long, long face. Gone was his genial smile, and his disposition smacked of sourest vinegar. The professor's fondest hopes went down with the good ship Democracy when the elections returns came in Tuesday night.

"It is astounding to note the psychological effect of a slush fund on the human emotions," he continued. "Then, too, I am moved to agree with our late departed friend, P. T. Barnum, who said that a sardine is born every minute."

"Sucker, not sardine," we corrected.

"Yes, that's it—sucker. Barnum had in mind the gullibility of the masses. A spellbinder is paid $100 a speech to howl calamity and democratic damnation. The mobs listen with their mouths hanging open. Even the old regulars swallow bait, hook, line and part of the pole, and when election day dawns they kick out of the traces and run wild. 'Tis a gloomy day, has come upon us, my friend, a gloomy day."

We are moved by the professor's sorrow. We have had hot arguments about mangy street dogs we have almost come to swats over the mud streets of Ada; have taken issue with each other on subjects that take in the moon, the sun, the

HARDING PREPARES FOR A VACATION

Will Winter in the South and Prepare His Policies.

By the Associated Press

MARION, Ohio, Nov. 4.—With only two days remaining before he leaves Marion for a month's vacation trip, President-elect Harding went to work today clearing up his desk of the final left-over details of his campaign.

With Mrs. Harding he will start at 7:30 Saturday morning for Point Isabel, Texas, where he will spend several days hunting and fishing prior to an ocean voyage to the Panama Canal zone. He plans to be back in Marion December 6 and after that may go to some Gulf coast resort for the winter to be spent in choosing his cabinet and formulating the policies of his administration.

He will make short talks from his train along the way south, and may also deliver one or two addresses on particular subjects before March 4.

Tonight Marion is to celebrate informally his election to the presidency and several hundred people from other cities are expected to join in the occasion. There will be all the noise and red fire that his loyal neighbors and friends can produce and many special speeches to give the Harding front porch and lawn one final baptism and campaign glory.

RETURNS IN STATE ELECTION CONTEST ARE YET VAGUE

Scott Ferris Badly Beaten;
Tom McKeown Also Defeated.

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4.—L. M. Gensman, republican candidate for congress in the Sixth district, had a majority of 1,462 over Elmer Thomas, democrat, on returns compiled at 11 o'clock today. The count: Gensman 25,691, Thomas 24,229. Precincts reporting were 297 out of 304.

With complete but unofficial returns from all but one precinct in the second congressional district, Miss Alice Robertson, republican, on a final report from Okmulgee county, held a final lead of 629 over W. W. Hastings, democrat. One precinct in Cherokee county remained to be reported.

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4.—Giving away to the more important presidential, senatorial and congressional races in the state, the complexion of the various local, state and judicial offices and the makeup of the next legislature attracted the attention of Oklahoma voters today. Figures from Tuesday's election on these offices were sidetracked for those of national importance, which on the face of what few returns are at hand make it impossible to ascertain what candidates are to fill these seats.

The vote on the state questions submitted to the electors likewise is very vague and it is yet impossible to forecast what these questions suffered at the polls. State party officials and executives of the election board estimate that 450,000

SENATOR LODGE SAYS MILLENNIUM IS NOT COMING

By the Associated Press

BOSTON, Nov. 4.—Senator Lodge, in commenting upon the election today said: "The republican victory is so large I cannot grasp it. It is distinctly an American victory," he said. "We shall not bring any millennium to the country," he added. "We don't promise it. One thing we can do is to bring the government back to its constitutional form, under which we have lived and progressed. We have brought to an end the attempt to enter into the league of nations which Wilson brought back from Paris. That is not the only league that can be made to promote the peace of the world. One of the first duties of Senator Harding will be to draw up an agreement looking on the preservation of the peace of the world—an association—or whatever you will—not an alliance."

TENNESSEE AND OKLAHOMA SHOOT THE SHOOTS WITH ALL THE REST

Scott Ferris Beaten by Large Majority to Surprise of Both Democrats and Republicans; Reports Are That Tom D. McKeown Also Is Defeated for Congress.

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Tennessee has swung into the swelling republican column, shattering the democratic tradition of a "solid south," unofficial but nearly complete returns from the entire state showed early today.

Her shift from the democratic rank, coupled with a similar upset in Oklahoma, reported last night, assured Warren G. Harding of 386 electoral votes as against 127 definitely in the James M. Cox column and left in doubt but 18 votes in the electoral college, divided among Arizona 3, Montana 4, Nevada 3, New Mexico 3 and North Dakota 5.

In all of these states, save New Mexico, Harding was in the lead on available returns and even in New Mexico republican managers were claiming a Harding plurality, though available returns showed a Cox lead.

No further actual upsets were reported from the "solid south," although several towns in Florida and Alabama and several counties in Georgia and Alabama broke the precedent by piling up Harding pluralities.

The republican congressional sweep assumed larger proportions as belated returns continued to come in. The victory of Samuel D. Nicholson, republican candidate for the senate from Colorado, assured President-elect Harding a majority of at least ten in the upper house and of five states where senatorial choices have not been demonstrated. The republican candidates were in the lead in four, Arizona, Oregon, Nevada and North Dakota.

In the fifth Kentucky district republican leaders still clung to the hope that late returns would overcome the advantage held by Senator J. C. W. Beckham over Richard P. Ernst, his republican opponent.

The republicans had secured 257 seats in the house of representatives to 132 seats for the democrats and four for other parties, giving them a lead of 119 with 43 contests in 16 states undetermined. Thirty-seven of these contests were in states which gave Harding pluralities, or whose uncompleted vote showed the republican candidate in the lead.

The house will have one socialist member, Meyer London, of New York, who defeated Henry M. Goldfogle. The prohibition party lost its one representative, but the independent prohibitionist, Hamilton W. Shreve, was elected from the 25th Pennsylvania district. Several notable upsets occurred in the congressional race, among them being the retirement by Missouri voters of former Speaker Champ Clark of the house, and in election by Texas voters of a republican representative, Harry Waurzbach.

Post election developments within the rank of the beaten democratic party included a party statement from William Jennings Bryan, in which he divided the blame for the defeat between President Wilson and Candidate Cox, asserting that the former had "laid the foundation for the disaster," and the latter had "completed the structure."

Quiet prevails after

NEGRO RIOTING

By the Associated Press

ORLANDO, Fla., Nov. 4.—Former service men patrolled the streets of Orlando, Ocoee and nearby towns last night to prevent renewal of race trouble which has caused the death at Ocoee last night of two men and six negroes. Quiet prevailed early today and the authorities said they did not expect further trouble.

Deputy Sheriffs, who were called to Ocoee by the rioting, which was the outgrowth of the election, said they believed the death toll would exceed eight. They said they were convinced the bodies of several negroes would be found in the of the twenty-five houses destroyed by fire.

The battle between white citizens and negroes followed an attempt on the part of a negro to vote. He was denied the privilege by election officials.

Later it was reported white citizens believed a crowd of negroes intended to attack them and shooting resulted.

Girl Is Bitten by Mad Dog While Crossing Street

Miss May Noe received several bites and scratches from a dog, believed to have been mad, while crossing a street last night. She had been across the street to visit with a friend and had started home when she met the dog. There was no street light near and she was unable to see it until it made a leap for her throat. Her screams were heard by neighbors who ran to her assistance immediately, but were unable to drive the dog away until it had bitten her several times. The incident happened near her home on West Ninth street.

She was taken to a madstone near Roff soon after the dog had bitten her but it failed to have any effect on the wounds. It is not known whether the dog is mad or not and she will be taken to the stone again this afternoon. She was forced to remain home today on account of the shock which left her in a nervous condition.

Reports have been received that the dog had bitten several dogs and cows in that part of town, but it could not be found when searched for this morning.

Ferris Concedes Defeat

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4.—(Special)—Accepting his defeat with the same good natured smile that has characterized him in victory Scott Ferris, who lost to J. W. Harrel in the race for the United States senate, this morning congratulated Harrel on his victory.

"I wish to offer you my sincere support in all of your efforts in behalf of Oklahoma and the nation," Ferris told Harrel.

Ferris was flooded with telegrams of regret from friends all over the state, one from Rogers, mayor of Frederick, Oklahoma, said:

"Frederick and Tillman county extend to you their best wishes and offer you a home in Frederick and Tillman county—a thoroughbred democratic county."

Ferris gave out the following statement last night when he conceded the election of Harrel: "Oklahoma has joined the nation in a republican landslide. I go down with the rest. My friends were loyal, and true, my devotion to them is unbounded, the defeat of myself and other candidates on the democratic ticket is a puny matter compared with the great cause for which we fought, our defeat will be forgotten, the cause for which we fought will live on."

CONDEMNED MAN WROUGHT STICK

MUSKOGEE.—"It almost broke my heart to turn down the offer," said Desk Sergeant Parker at the police station. "I could use the $100, but that cane has a history and I wouldn't part with it for far more than that."

Sergeant Parker exhibited a beautifully inlaid cane made of horn, tapering from a large full handle to a very small bottom. It was cow's horn, he said, put together in sections, each section flush with the other and of slightly different shade, and all handsomely polished. Through the center, he said, ran a steel rod, but the rod was invisible.

"Infinite care and patience were required in the manufacture of the cane," the sergeant stated. "It was the handiwork of a man condemned to death for murder in Tennessee, and was given to me by the state prison officials in Tennessee as a token of gratitude for capturing the man in Muskogee."

He Was Sentenced to Die. "It happened several years ago. The man had broken jail in Tennessee while under sentence of death for the murder of his closest friend in a quarrel over the friend's wife. The evidence at the trial proved conclusively that he had picked the quarrel for the sole purpose of murdering his friend."

"He was convicted and appealed his case and it was while the appeal was pending that he escaped from jail."

"He had been in Muskogee 24 hours when we recognized him on the street from his picture and description and brought him to the station for investigation."

"By this time remorse had seized him and he freely told us who he was and all about the case."

"He had been in love with the woman and she had encouraged him to slay her husband. But while he was in jail awaiting trial she deserted him for another and then took the witness stand against him. Then he realized how worthless she was and how great his offense had been, and, after one break for liberty, he wanted to pay the penalty."

"He came from a prominent family in Tennessee, members of whom I knew as a boy in that state. In his last days, while awaiting execution, he fashioned this cane and I shall keep it always as one of my most valued souvenirs and remembrances."

College Athletes Must Walk the Narrow Path

PHILADELPHIA.—Coach John W. Heisman, of the University of Pennsylvania football team, has issued a list of eight rules for the benefit of the candidates. At the opening practice recently every man was given a copy and required to sign an honor pledge that he would obey these rules, which follow.

HOW GREAT MAN O' WAR ROMPED AWAY FROM SIR BARTON

Man o' War, at right, and Sir Barton trailing him in $75,000 match race at Windsor.

Man o' War, Samuel Riddle's great thoroughbred, proved again that he is the greatest horse in modern turf history when he beat Sir Barton, his only real rival, in the $75,000 match race at Windsor, Canada, recently. Sir Barton drew the pole and was off a bit ahead of Man o' War, but the Riddle runner took the lead at the turn and came under the wire eight lengths ahead. Riddle is now considering entering his wonder-horse in the Astor cup race next July in England.

Boston to Keep a Keen Eye For Schemes Like Mr. Ponzi's

BOSTON.—An organization to promote thrift and to protect savings has been incorporated here as an outgrowth of the war-time conservation campaigns and the recent Ponzi-high-finance fiasco. It will be known as the Association for the Promotion and Protection of Savings and will combine with the encouragement of safe investment on educational program to combat the get-rich-quick schemes.

At the head of the association is Alfred L. Aiken, former governor of the Federal Reserve Bank in this city. Those associated with him include leaders in the thrift, Liberty loan and other campaigns of recent years. The association will co-operate with the work of the savings division of the treasury department, but its activities will be distinct from any government branch.

The educational department will be divided into school and home economic sections, the former covering education in thrift in colleges, public, private, parochial, normal and vocational schools and the latter working with women's organizations, fraternal bodies, the army and navy, the churches and professions.

The business department will be divided into industrial and commercial, agriculture and banking sections. The industrial and commercial section will work with labor unions, associated industries, the wholesale and retail trades, Americanization committee and the Young Men's Christian association industrial secretaries. The agricultural section will be concerned fringe on any of these rules he should consult the head coach, who may or may not grant permission to do so. Expulsion from Pennsylvania football will be one of the penalties of failure to obey these rules.

FORMER POLICEMAN HELD FOR ROBBERY

TULSA, Nov. 3.—Charged with highway robbery, M. B. Cooper, until five days ago patrolman with the police department, was arrested Monday afternoon in the office of Chief of Police Gustafson, where he had been called for a conference.

Cooper was taken immediately before Justice H. J. Gray, arraigned, entered a plea of not guilty and arranged bond for $500 for his appearance when a preliminary hearing is called.

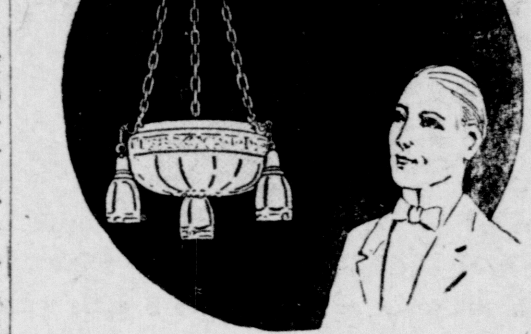

On the night of October 23, according to an information filed yesterday by the county attorney, Cooper stopped Leonard Olson of negro, on S. Second street, near the carnival grounds. After relieving the negro of $1.75 the officer told the negro to beat it.

During the same night, Chief of Police Gustafson said yesterday, Cooper stopped Leonard Olson of Kiowa, Okla., near the same corner and relieved him of $10 in the same fashion as the negro had been deprived of his money.

Although Olson's name does not appear on the information filed in the county the police chief has his written statement, charging the patrolman with robbing him. After his arrest Cooper refused to deny or admit the robbery.

On the night of October 23, according to an information filed yesterday by the county attorney, Cooper stopped Leonard Olson of negro, on S. Second street, near the carnival grounds. After relieving the negro of $1.75 the officer told the negro to beat it.

During the same night, Chief of Police Gustafson said yesterday, Cooper stopped Leonard Olson of Kiowa, Okla., near the same corner and relieved him of $10 in the same fashion as the negro had been deprived of his money.

FARM HAND HELD FOR KILLING FARMER

LA CROSSE, Wis., Nov. 4.—John G. Reier, farm hand, was arrested Sunday charged with murder in connection with the death of Nicholas Biesen, Brinkman Ridge farmer, whose body was found on August 26th with the top of the head blown off by a shot gun. The coroner's verdict was suicide.

Mrs. Helen Hiesen, wife of the dead man, is held on a statutory charge. She confessed, it is said, that Reier told her he had killed her husband.

Two weeks ago Reier was brought into county court on a statutory charge involving Mrs. Biesen and the woman's 14-year-old daughter dramatically accused her mother on the stand of intimacy with the farm hand, and sold of the quarrels between her parents over Reier. Reier was released on bail and an investigation of which destroyed the Biesen home about two weeks after the investigation was begun.

THINKS INDIAN HAS GOT INTO BIGAMY TANGLE

TULSA.—"Unless Tom Carson, ward of the government, has procured a divorce without my knowledge and I think that is most probable, he now has two white wives," George B. Mellott, Pawhuska, guardian of the Osage Indian, declared yesterday. "He was married to a white woman who is now living at Ralston, Okla., 18 months ago, and I have been informed that he has married to Ella Miller at Sapulpa last Friday night. Mellott that Carson has another white wife, all efforts to locate Carson and his latest bride have been futile here.

Mellott also declared that they had not reported at Pawhuska, Carson's home, Sunday. He declared that Carson is more like a child than a grown man and is less able to take care of himself than the ordinary Osage. He would not say whether legal action would be taken to stop Carson from going further with his marriage to the Miller woman.

"On the face of it, it is an illegal marriage," Mellott declared.

HOW DOCTORS TREAT COLDS AND THE FLU

First Step in Treatment Is a Brisk Purgative With Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets that are Nausealess, Safe and Sure.

Doctors have found by experience that no medicine for colds and influenza can be depended upon for full effectiveness until the liver is made thoroughly active. That is why the first step in the treatment is the new, nausealess calomel tablets called Calotabs, which are free from the sickening and weakening effects of the old style calomel. Doctors also point out the fact that an active liver may go a long way towards preventing influenza and is one of the most important factors in enabling the patient to successfully withstand an attack and ward off pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating, pleasure or work. Next morning your cold has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified, and you are feeling fine, with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Druggists sell Calotabs only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. Your money will be cheerfully refunded if you do not find them delightful.—(Adv.)

"Whoso loveth instruction loveth knowledge; but he that hateth reproof is brutish."—Prov. 12-1.

THE VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

The unprecedented victory of the Harding-Coolidge ticket is interesting principally as an illustration of the state of the public mind. Its news value is largely discounted by the nation-wide expectation of republican victory. For more than two years students of politics have known that this election would be only formal, that the republican tide was beating overwhelmingly about the democratic position, and that the very stars in their courses were fighting for Harding's cause. Hence there is no surprise in the final outcome, and it is interesting only to note the causes that rendered democratic defeat inevitable.

Nationally speaking the democratic is the minority party. When the republican party is united it wins. When the republican party takes the offensive it wins. When democracy is on the defensive it loses. These conditions are fundamental and cannot be denied. It follows naturally that when the democracy is trying to defend itself from a republican offensive directed by a party thoroughly united and filled with the spirit of victory the only possible result is a pronounced democratic defeat.

The factional discord that wrecked the republican party for a season was utterly banished during the days of war. The issues that divided the party in the days of Taft and Roosevelt passed out of the public mind and issues born of a world struggle took their place. These new issues unified the republican party. It found itself harmonized by the presentation of a new idea and re-entered the arena of national politics knowing that it was going to win.

On the other hand democracy was disorganized by its eight years lease of power. During its ascendancy issues rose that could not be settled in a day. Their consideration called for the most violent discussion. Then the exigencies of war demanded the enactment of laws and the inauguration of policies that were exceedingly distasteful to the American people. The burdens of taxation swelled to mammoth proportions by the waste of carnage fell like a whip of scorpions on the people of the land. The sum of it all was a determination on the part of the public to make a change in the administration of government. Tuesday's election was the opportunity long coveted by the voters of America. They simply did at the ballot box what they had made up their minds to do two years ago.

The people wanted a change. It is doubtful if the voter's attitude on the league of nations had very much to do with the general result. Friends of the league and enemies of the league discussed it and campaign orators talked about it, but the great mass of the people simply voted for a change. If the position of the two parties on the covenant had been reversed—if the republicans had endorsed it and the democrats had damned it—the result would have been the same. The people would have voted for a change in government.

The public has shown its desire for a change in a most emphatic way: It has cast a cyclopean majority for the republican ticket. The voters of America have invoked the privilege of American freemen and have voted the democratic party out of power and voted the republican party in. The democrats are not unduly depressed by defeat: the republicans are not unduly exalted by victory. Both parties have known for a biennium what was going to happen and neither party is surprised. Voters of all parties will accept the result as the verdict of the people and should lend the new administration their loyal support.

NO APATHY THERE

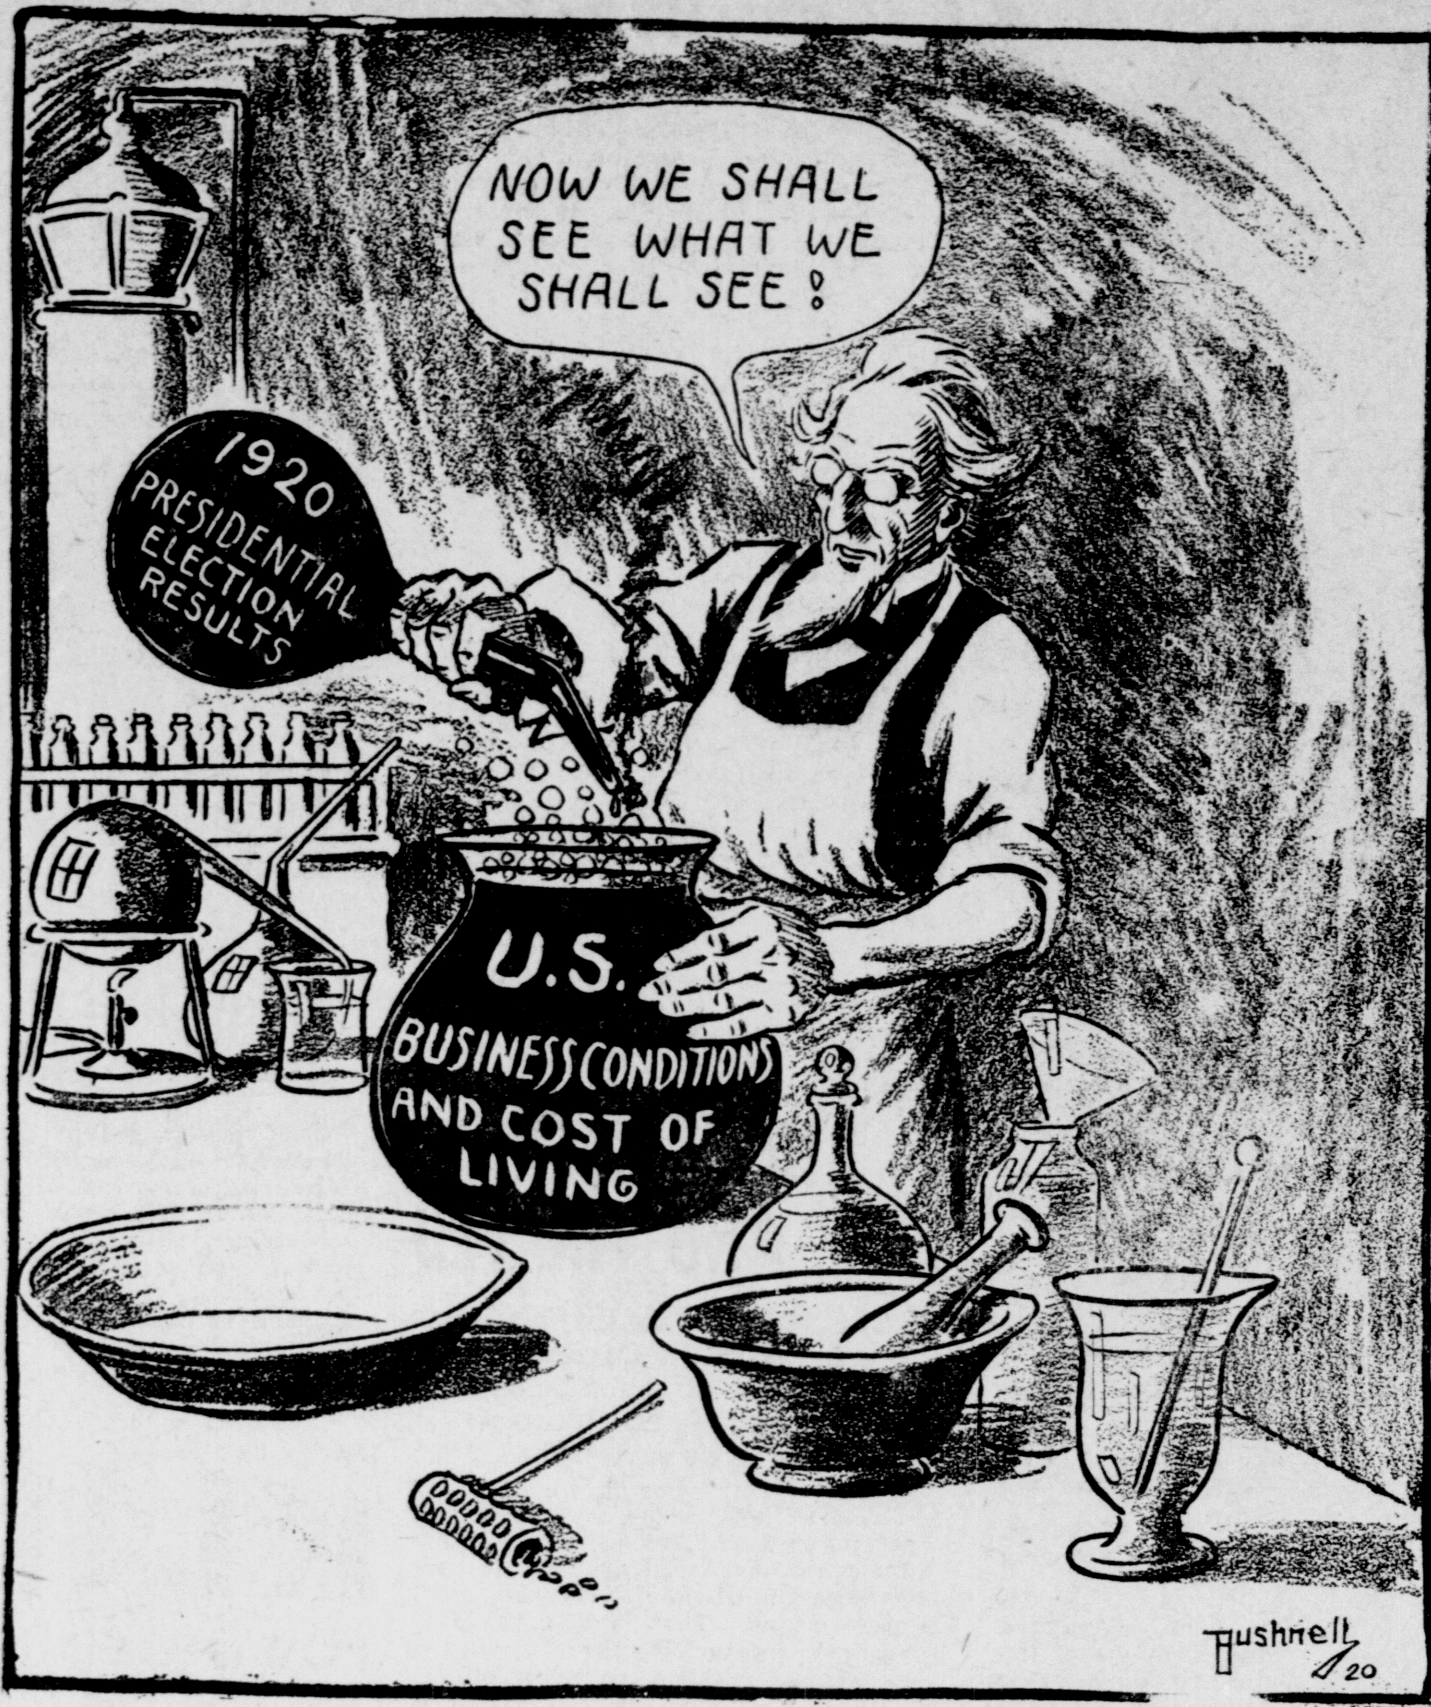

The old fashioned stick who spent his time in arguing that women did not want the ballot and would not vote if enfranchisement was not visible in Ada yesterday. If he was, he hardly enjoyed the spectacle presented at every polling place in the city. Where all those women came from does not appear in the record, but they came and they knew why they came and what for.

The polling places became about the middle of the afternoon the busiest places in Ada. They were literally overrun by women. Every rank and condition of life was represented in the crowds that filled the polling places and waited in seven deep formation for their turn in the voting booths. The rush at the fire station where the first ward voters cast their ballots was particularly noticeable.

There may have been apathy in some parts of the country but it was not visible in Ada. And it is undisputed that among the women of Ada no such thing as apathy had ever been heard of. Will the women vote if given the franchise? Look at the tally sheets.

It was a landslide alright.

In the language of the immortal Oliver Hazard Perry we have met the enemy and we are his'n.

Charlie Ray Can't Be Bothered With Gun - Shy Dogs

Recently while visiting friends near Cookeville, Tenn., Charlie Ray, was prevailed upon to buy a registered shepherd dog. The canine was guaranteed to be a first class squirrel dog, and Charlie came back to Ada Sunday morning firmly convinced that when "Tige" arrived he would make the squirrels sit up and take notice.

"Tige" arrived Monday morning and after paying a $7.50 express bill and presenting his new friend with a nice collar, Charlie hustled off to the woods with him expecting to have the time of his life.

They had proceeded but a short distance when Charlie spotted a very suspicious looking squirrel's nest in a tree, and he decided to take a luck shot at the nest.

At the crack of the gun "Tige" gave one long dismal howl and started for home. Charlie finally got him to stop, and after much petting and coaxing persuaded him to accompany him further into the woods. As Charlie walked along, with "Tige" following closely at his heels, he came to the conclusion that he had been "stung," but decided to give the dog one more chance. Stopping suddenly he pointed his gun heavenward as though he was going to shoot. "Tige" did not wait for the report of the gun this time but started home again. He reached home, alright, an eternal home, called by some the "Happy Hunting Grounds," but before he will be fit for service in that exclusive forest he must be purged of five loads of number four shot, which were the last favors of his last earthly master.

Charlie says that when he buys another squirrel dog he will pick him from a community where dogs are trained to hunt with masters who use shotguns instead of flint rifles.

"Tonight my people dance. If you come, there may be a dance for you—perhaps a kiss!" Oh, beautiful Senorita! You who refused your lips to one of your own people because you were saving them for the man you would love, offered them freely, to an American—a hater "Gringo"—a Texas Ranger and enemy of your father!

It was a dangerous, daring, adventurous thing for Danny O'Neil to cross the Rio Grande into enemy country and claim a dance and a kiss—but Danny was fearless and hopelessly in love, so he went!

If you are interested in Danny's reckless daring and Maria Inez's spirited romance, you will find the whole story, in all its ruggedness and vividness, on the screen at the American theater today and tomorrow where "Rio Grande" is the feature on the new program.

Edwin Carewe, producer and director, adapted this Pathe picture from Augustus Thomas' famous play. The all star cast is headed by Roosevelt Theby and Allan Sears.

MUSKOGEE MEN BATTLE BLIZZARD

MUSKOGEE, Nov. 3.—After battling a raging blizzard for eight days through the continental divide, sleeping in the snow and groping their way over dangerous and uncertain roads in the teeth of a gale that stung their faces with ice and sleet George Warren Barnes D. N. Pink jr. and W. E. Pickrell are home from a 10,000 mile tour of the west.

Their car, a humble "flover," was the first to cross the divide while the blizzard was on. Barnes said last night. All along the roadway they found cars stalled and snowbound, the occupants of many in dire straits. There were women in several of the cars and Mr. Barnes and his companions carried to the next town.

Not only did the Muskogee party win the distinction of being first to win their battle with the blizzard yet theirs was a bit of good fortune, the first and last cars to make the flooded districts in Oklahoma City.

The Muskogeeans began their tour in Denver, August 20. They toured Wyoming, Utah, Nevada and California before turning homeward through Arizona, New Mexico, Texas and Oklahoma. In all they passed through fifteen or sixteen states, Mr. Barnes said. They left

No Chance for Material Cut In Living Cost, Avers Expert

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—There is no hope of a radical or permanent reduction in the cost of living, according to W. Jett Lauck, consulting economist and recognized authority on prices.

As wholesale prices now stand, he stated, they are approximately 134 percent higher than they were before the war.

"Thus far the reductions in wholesale prices have had very small effect upon the necessary outlay of the average family," Lauck said. "The ultimate consumer, up to this time, has found relief only in a slight reduction in food and clothing. As applied to this total outlay for himself and his family, this has amounted to only approximately five percent. The cost of fuel, light, housing and sundries continues to advance. "Retail prices of foodstuffs, fabrics and clothing have not as yet fully responded to the recent fall in wholesale prices and some further reductions may be expected, but there is no ground for the hope of an early or radical reduction in the cost of living or any very great decline in retail prices because of the tendencies which are not operative.

"Under existing conditions of production, credit and distribution the tendency is to be down on the farm, on one hand, and, on the other, to exploit the consumer.

"Action and organization are needed to enable the farmers properly to market their products and to safeguard the public against arbitrary prices and profiteering.

"The consumer must secure the enactment of laws to prevent profiteering, price manipulation and the use of credit in the speculation for the necessities of life."

Thrice Divorced, Girl Elopes With Muskogee Chauffeur

MUSKOGEE, Nov. 4.—Betsy, Sharp the pretty 18-year-old girl whose matrimonial escapades have three times brought her into the limelight and whose third venture into matrimony resulted in her husband, Onie Vassar, being shot and seriously wounded by her mother, eloped to Wagoner Monday afternoon with "Babe" Bolen, a taxi driver.

Betsy informed her mother of her fourth marriage by telephone on her return to Muskogee last night.

"She gave no details," said Mrs. Sharp "and I don't know how she went to Wagoner or who performed the ceremony.

"I had no idea she intended to get married again. She simply slipped away and surprised me in the way she has.

"She said they were going to live for the present with her husband's sister in Muskogee. I don't know the sister's name or what street she lives on.

Betsy's third matrimonial entanglement was dissolved by divorce after Mrs. C. E. Sharp had shot young Vassar through the abdomen on January 15 of this year in the store of the Standard Tire company.

A friend of Betsy's, it was said at the time, had run to Mrs. Sharp with word that Vassar was beating his young wife, and the mother immediately came to her daughter's aid pistol in hand.

Vassar, although seriously wounded, seized a piece of tire would and struck Mrs. Sharp on the head, inflicting a severe wound which bled profusely.

At first it was thought Vassar would die, but he recovered and Mrs. Sharp was not prosecuted.

In the fall of 1917, Betsy Sharp married Oliver Tilly, 16-year-old son of Dr. T. W. Tilly, following an elopement to Wagoner.

Tilly's parents had the marriage annulled, but on January 4, 1918, they again eloped, going to Okmulgee, where they were married by a minister who they picked up on the way. This time the girl's parents procured an annulment of the marriage and Tilly joined the navy.

On June 21 of the following year Betsy eloped with Onie Vassar to Joplin, Mo., where they were married.

"I shall take no steps to separate Betsy and her present husband," said Mrs. Sharp.

"I want my daughter to be happy and I hope now she will be able to settle down to a happy married life.

"She is 18 and has the legal right to choose for herself. I am reconciled to her marriage and believe Bolen is an estimable young man who will make her a good husband."

ONE OF FIRST COINS MINTED IN THE U. S. FOUND

DOVER, Mass.—A Franklin penny, the first copper coin to be authorized by congress, has been found on the homestead of one of the first settlers here. It was struck in 1787 and is one of a few that were coined.

The penny took its name from Benjamin Franklin because of the inclusion in its design of the homely admonition "Mind your business," after a suggestion by him that coins should serve purposes other than those of legal tender.

On one side thirteen circles appear linked together, an small circle in the middle with the word "United States" around it, and in the center "We are one." On the other side is a dial with the hours indicated, a meridian sun above it, on one side of which is the word "Fugio" and on the other the date "1787." Below the dial appears the Franklin phrase "Mind your business."

Many of the poets who have contributed to Chinese literature have been women.

IF.

While walking down a crowded street the other day I heard a little urchin to a comrade turn and say:

"Say Jimmie let me tell yer, I'd be as happy as a clam, if I only was de feller dat me mudder t'inks I am."

"She t'inks I am a wonder, and knows her little lad Would never mix wit' nothin' dat was ungly mean or bad; An' lots o' times I sit and t'ink how nice't would be—ge whiz If a feller was de feller dat his mudder t'inks he is."

So, folks, be yours a life of toll or undiluted joy.

You still can learn a lesson from the small, unlettered boy; Don't try to be an earthly saint, with eyes fixed on a star— Just try to be the fellow that your mother thinks you are.

Mrs. Bowles Entertains.

Mrs. A. L. Bowles and Mrs. T. O. Cullins were hostesses to the young women's club of the Methodist church Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. The entertainment was in the form of a Halloween party, and ghosts, black cats and spooks were in abundance. A delicious luncheon was served to the following guests: Mesdames, R. C. Guest, A. B. Mears, T. O. Dandridge, Ben Baldwin, James M. Duncan, W. M. Barringer, E. C. Peay, Emma Jane Ligon, T. O. Cullins and A. L. Bowles.

At the business meeting Mrs. T. O. Cullins was elected supervisor-president; Mrs. E. C. Peay, vice-president; Emma Jane Ligon, secretary-treasurer.

Monday, November 8, the club meets with Mrs. E. C. Peay, with Mrs. A. B. Mears as leader. Lesson, Chapter one of the church and the community, by Ralph E. Diffendodger.

Sophomores Give Party at Normal

Despite the fact that the election returns were coming in and the spirit of unrest everywhere, the sophomore class at the Normal spent a delightful evening in the reception room, playing the old time games and making merry in general. All present entered into the fun and were loath to leave, when it was found that the clock had moved up to the hour for departure. Refreshments consisting of fruit salad with whipped cream and cherries, cheese sandwiches and pickles, were served bountifully.

Much credit is due Mrs. Ruth Carter, sponsor of the class, for the capable manner in which the plans were carried out, and all sophomores are looking forward to the time when they may have another party.

Mrs. W. G. Moser left on the morning Frisco for Tulsa where she will spend the week-end with her daughter, Helen, who is attending Henry Kendall college at that place. Mrs. Moser will return next week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Mansker of Francis were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob German here last night. They returned home this morning.

Wyatt Webb, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Missouri for the past month, returned home yesterday.

Mrs. L. H. Frier and sister, Mrs. Williams of Sulphur, were visiting friends in Ada yesterday. They returned home last night.

Mrs. Williams of Sulphur was in Ada this week and made arrangements for rooms. She is moving here to enroll her daughter in school and will make Ada her home.

The Misses McKinney, daughters of John McKinney, have moved to Oakman where they have accepted positions in the schools. They will live there during this school term.

Mrs. Berdie Roberts left yesterday for Sulphur where she will make her future home. Her many friends here regret to see her leave and wish her happiness in her new home.

Brayton People Are Here To Launch News' Subscription Campaign

Mrs. W. J. Kirkpatrick and one of her assistants arrived in the city yesterday to launch the Ada News subscription campaign which starts Saturday and lasts until the evening of the 23rd of December.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick will be joined here by her husband within a few days, and other helpers will be along from time to time as their assistance is needed. They represent the Brayton Syndicate of Chicago and Denver, with which the News has contracted to at least double the circulation of both papers within seven weeks.

The subscription campaign will be the biggest and most spectacular of any ever conducted in this part of the country, and at the close of the campaign the News will give away three thousand dollars worth of premiums, chief of which will be a new 1921 model Essex touring car. Particulars of the campaign will appear in the News from day to day.

Your Saturday's Baking

Last week I dealt with the question of Wednesday's baking for a woman with six in family, arguing that the housekeeper should use her oven to the utmost when she uses it at all, and on Wednesday morning should bake deserts for all the days up to Saturday—instead of using extra gas or electricity (or increasing the heat of a coal range, which is often necessary) on separate days to prepare puddings or other deserts for immediate use.

This "intensive" baking should also be practiced on Saturday morning, when luncheon and dinners deserts for Saturday, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday should be baked in advance. Some such plan as the following might be followed:

Ginger cookies for Saturday luncheon (serving the remainder of the "batch" at luncheon on Monday and Tuesday); Fruit pudding for Saturday dinner; raisin pie for Sunday noon dinner; sour milk chocolate cake for Sunday night tea, tarts for dinner on Monday; and the left-over slices of the sour milk chocolate cake served with hot lemon sauce for dinner on Tuesday. These things can easily be baked between the hours of 9 and 12 on a Saturday morning, in addition to six loaves of bread (which the housekeeper has started the night before) if one proceeds as follows:

At 7 o'clock in the morning the risen bread should be put into pans to rise again (they will be ready to bake somewhere around 10:30) and the oven should be gotten hot so that at 9 o'clock it will be ready to receive those things which require greater heat than the bread. The cookies, pies and tarts should be baked first, then the chocolate loaf cake and the fruit pudding; the bread will come last.

A fruit pie such as raisin pie (a fine recipe for this comes printed on the raisin box) is always an economical thing to serve for it contains no eggs. Left-over sour milk is utilized in the delicious chocolate loaf cake, for which the recipe is given below. And the entire batch of about 45 ginger cookies which furnishes a dessert for three lunches, contains but one egg (the recipe for these will appear tomorrow as well as recipes for tarts and fruit pudding.)

Sour Milk Chocolate Loaf Cake. —2 cups brown sugar, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, 1-2 cup boiling water, 2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon soda, 1-2 cup sour milk. Cream the butter and sugar together; stir into this the well-beaten eggs and the chocolate melted in the boiling water. Dissolve the soda in the sour milk and add this alternately with the flour. Bake in a moderate oven for 45 minutes. Ice with the following:

DIAMOND SYNDICATE MAINTAINS PRICES

If the London Diamond Syndicate, which is said to control the marketing of 90 percent or more of the world's output of diamonds, has its way, there will be no recession in the price of diamonds regardless of decline that may occur in the prices of other commodities.

Such is the information conveyed yesterday in a cablegram from Mr. Breitmeier, chairman of the great London Diamond Syndicate, which reads as follows.

"In reply to your letter of August 23, Diamond Syndicate's policy has always been to maintain prices, and there is no intention to depart therefrom. You may make use of this information as you think best."

The above message was addressed to "Jewelers' Circular," this city, being a reply to special inquiry by that organ of the jewelry trade.

The reaction in certain lines of business, with the corresponding decline in many varieties of merchandise, including some types of jewelry, have led to expectation on the part of the public that diamonds would be similarly affected. As a matter of fact, the basic market price of diamonds has suffered no decline. It is declared on good authority that the few instances of recessions which have occurred have been confined to a few retail dealers forced to that expedient by credit pressure.

Speaking generally, the entire diamond market of the United States is effectually dominated by the London syndicate through which practically our entire supply is acquired. As stated in the above cablegram, it is not now the intention of this syndicate to permit any price decline.

It is learned from the trade that the policy of the syndicate has always been to maintain or increase the price of diamonds, and particularly in the later years, as the older and important mines are gradually becoming exhausted of gem stones.

When time of business depression or money scarcity occasion a slump in the demand for the stones the syndicate instead of readjusting its prices merely curtails its output, a thing which it can easily do because of its highly monopolistic position. Such is the condition and the prospect which the diamond cutters and jobbers are now facing.

For many years the prices of diamonds have been set by the syndicate of London, which under contract with the DeBeers Consolidated Mines, the Premier Diamond Mining company of the Transvaal and those in control of the DeBeers interest, including the German fields, market, the entire product of rough diamonds of such companies, which is approximately about 90 percent of the entire output of the world. The diamond syndicate has often been referred to as the greatest and strongest trust of the world. It sells its product of rough only to the principal cutters of Amsterdam, Antwerp, London and New York at killings" of Haitians by members of the U. S. marine corps. Rear Admiral Henry T. Mayo is president of the board. Officers of the corps who have served and are serving in Haiti will be quizzed.

prices which it fixes beforehand.

Those who know say that it has not been the habit of the Diamond Syndicate in the past to make any public statements as to what it intended to do or as to its policy in general. That it deviates from this practice in making a statement to the American public through the "Jewelers' Circular" was due to the importance of the American market and the extraordinary business conditions now prevailing.

The outlook as it is now generally regarded in the trade is that such re-adjustments as may occur in the diamond market will not involve prices, but will be confined to temporary restrictions in the volume of business, the extent and duration of which being determined entirely by general business conditions.

LATIMER SHERIFF IS SHOT AT WILBURTON

WILBURTON, Nov. 1.—John G. Shaw, sheriff of Latimer county, and John L. Pesworth, alleged moonshiner were wounded in a battle between officers and supposed operators of a wildcat still four miles west of here, as the result of a raid late Sunday evening.

Shaw was accompanied by two deputies on the raid. When Pesworth, according to the officers, failed to throw up his hands at the order, Shaw shot, the bullet striking Pesworth in the head, fracturing his skull. John Committi, another alleged moonshiner, gave up and was placed in jail but two other Pesworth boys escaped.

The two Pesworth boys later are said to have held up Shaw and Ed Buese, deputy sheriff, on the main street here. Buese threw up his hands but Shaw refused and Frank Pesworth is alleged to have opened fire. One of four shots struck Shaw over the heart, plowing through clothing and three folds of Pesworth's hat which Shaw had in his shirt bosom; and striking a rib.

Shaw returned fire and backed behind a store building. The two alleged moonshiners took Buese to the jail and forced him to release Committi, it is alleged.

Shaw procured the aid of two citizens and encountered the alleged moonshiners near the court house but Buese called out for them not to fire as he was between them.

The three alleged Moonshiners took Buese to the edge of town and released him. Pesworth's condition, however, caused the men to come in and give up. They are alleged to have come into the county judge's office heavily armed and refused to be arrested until given assurance that they would be treated right when in the hands of the sheriff.

After a conference between the father of the Pesworth boys and the sheriff, the men surrendered their guns. The men were arraigned on two charges and bonds fixed at $7,000 each for Pesworths, and another $1,000 for Committi.

EDITORIAL IDEALS And The Men Who Make The O. F. S.

These men make The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman one of the most potent factors in the advancement of Oklahoma agriculture and the favorite farm paper of a big majority of the substantial farmers of the state. Here are their names and the branches of agriculture they specialize in:

Carl Williams, soil tillage expert, organization specialist and farm economist; Clarence Roberts, soils and crops; Mabel Bates Williams, farm women and home department; C. W. Mullen, soils and crops of western Oklahoma; R. G. Miller, good roads and correspondence; Glenn G. Hayes, market expert; W. P. Camp, crops of northeast Oklahoma; John M. White, tillage and crops in southeast Oklahoma; I. W. Dickerson, farm engineering expert; T. S. Townsley, poultry editor.

Farmers of Oklahoma know these men and believe in their editorial ideals. The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman they recognize as an Oklahoma institution edited by men who know Oklahoma—men anxious to serve their best interests.

Mr. Merchant, these farmers also read the advertisements in The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman and want the goods they see advertised. Are you capitalizing the editorial supremacy of Oklahoma's favorite farm paper by stocking these goods and recommending them to your farm trade?

NO institution can be stronger than the ideals of the men behind it. Neither can it prosper and grow unless these ideals are attained by honestly serving its customers. A firm belief in this truth constitutes the foundation underlying the editorial policy of The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman, Oklahoma's dominant and favorite farm paper.

Behind The Oklahoma Farmer-Stockman are men—the editor and his associates. Their ideals can be expressed in the simple phrase—"Service to Farm Folks."

Each of these men is a specialist, chosen for his special training, knowledge and aptitude in some particular phase of practical farming. Taken together they constitute one of the highest salaried and strongest editorial staffs of any state farm paper in America.

SEMINOLE YOUTH TO RECOVER FROM PISTOL WOUND

SEMINOLE — Johnnie Hoffman, who was shot and seriously wounded by Virgil Chase here Sunday night, is reported to be resting much better tonight and his life is not entirely despaired of.

Chase is the son of former State Senator Robert Chase of this city and Hoffman is the brother of the present editor of the Seminole paper. Both Chase and Hoffman were schoolmates and boyhood chums.

The shooting is said to have been the outcome of a trivial dispute between the two men, which arose in a garage earlier in the evening. The weapon used was a .38 caliber revolver. The first bullet entered Hoffman's left arm and lodged against the backbone and the second entered the left side. His condition is said by attending physicians to be critical and little hope is held out for his recovery.

Chase made no attempt to escape and surrendered to officers shortly after the shooting. Young Hoffman was to have been married Sunday.

Stock Market

KANSAS CITY STOCK YARDS, Nov. 4.—As expected receipts are light and will be still smaller tomorrow owing to the national election. It is doubtful whether the movement will be resumed soon enough to bring any material supply in the latter half of the week. Prices ruled higher in all departments. Cattle were mostly 25 cents higher, hogs up 25 and 40 cents and sheep and lambs strong to 50 cents higher. Killers anticipate scant supplies of fat cattle for the next thirty days.

Today's Receipts. Receipts today were 13,000 cattle, 6,500 hogs and 7,500 sheep, as compared with 22,000 cattle, 9,000 hogs and 5,000 sheep a week ago and 36,700 cattle, 8,775 hogs and 8,850 sheep a year ago.

Beef Cattle. With only 13,000 cattle here today and the small part of the run suitable for killers, the demand for fat cattle ruled active at 15 to 35 cents higher prices, mostly 25 cents up. Good to choice fat steers were scarce and this class of cattle will remain in moderate supply for some time to come. Fair to good grass steers that sold at $9.00 to $11.50 showed the full advance and the plainer kinds were up 15 to 25 cents. Cows were in fairly liberal supply and sold 25 cents higher. Most of the cows brought $6.50 to $8.25. Some light weight short fed heifers sold at $12 to $12.50. Veal calves were quoted stronger.

Stocks and Feeders. Though fewer country buyers were here than a week ago, a good many orders for thin cattle were held by commission firms and prices were strong to 25 cents higher. Indications are that demand for thin cattle throughout this month will be active. About 150 carloads of high grade Angus, Shorthorn and Hereford calves and yearlings will be offered at special auction American Royal Show week, November 13 to 20.

Hogs. Having reached the lowest position in nearly three years past on the close last week the hog market rallied 25 to 40 cents today and was able to return the 13 cent price for the best offerings. The bulk of the hogs sold at $12.40 to $13, top $13.10. Packers are calling for weightier grades, but the shippers are paying a premium for the medium weight butchers. The general tendency is to narrow the price spread. Pigs continue in active demand at $11.50 to $13.

Sheep and Lambs. Lambs were mostly 50 cents higher, and sheep up 25 cents today under an active demand. Most of the western lambs sold at $12.50 to $13, and native lambs $12 to $12.50. Ewes are quoted at $5.50 to $6.50, yearlings $9 to $10, and wethers $8 to $8.75. Feeding lambs are quoted at $10.50 to $12.25. Only light receipts are in sight for the next few weeks.

AMERICAN LEGION GETS IN HARNESS FOR SEAL SALES

OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4.—With the annual Tuberculosis Christmas Seal sale less than a month away, the American Legion has gotten into the harness to enable Oklahoma to make it a success again. H. B. Fell of Ardmore, department commander of the Oklahoma legion, has written a letter to Jules Schevitz, general secretary of the Oklahoma Public Health association, pledging his support to the sale.

"Those of us who are to some extent aware of the wonderful work you are performing realize fully the great need of a continuance on at least as large a scale as in the past," says his letter. "The representative of the U. S. Public Health service at Oklahoma City has told me that the co-operation given him by the Oklahoma Public Health association has always been of the most hearty character, and I have also been informed that you have co-operated in a very successful manner with the Bureau of War Risk insurance and the Federal Board for Vocational Education.

"The Oklahoma Public Health association has been of great assistance to the sick and disabled service men and its work should be greatly appreciated by the ex-service men and citizens of the state. The only manner in which their appreciation can be fully shown is thru their support of the Tuberculosis Christmas Seal sale, and I trust that the sale will be more successful than any which you have had in the past. I intend to bring this matter to the attention of the various posts of the American Legion throughout the state, and request them to indorse the same."

CRUSHED BENEATH HEAVY WHEELS OF MOVING BOX CAR

Katy Brakeman Probably Fatally Injured in Fall.

Karl Kimbrough, brakeman for the Katy railroad, was probably fatally injured here this morning when he fell beneath a moving car, the heavy wheels crushing both legs just above the knee. His left hand also lacerated. The injured man was rushed to the Faust hospital. Both legs will probably be amputated as soon as he recovers sufficiently from the shock of the accident.

The accident occurred on the Katy spur near the American Glass factory. Kimbrough, whose home is in Atoka, had been railroading but two weeks, and the accident is attributed to his inexperience. He was standing on a coupling piece intending to make a coupling. The switch engine pushed another car from the other side and the sudden jar caused him to fall beneath the moving car, the heavy wheels rolling over his legs.

Kimbrough's wife and family at Atoka were notified by phone and are expected to arrive this afternoon.

The injured man's legs hung limply as he was lifted to be placed into the hospital ambulance. The bones evidently were completely severed. Physicians at the hospital set about giving him relief to bring him out of the shock, and no efforts will be made to determine the full extent of the injuries until he has quieted down.

votes were cast in the state, by far the largest ever cast in the history of Oklahoma.

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4.—Unofficial but complete returns from approximately 2,200 precincts out of the 2,685 in Oklahoma, on a tabulation made at 1:30 this afternoon, further increased the republican lead of both the presidential and senatorial contest.

In 2,202 precincts reported on the United States senator, Harrel, republican had total of 206,276, Ferris, democrat 184,094.

In 2,164 precincts they gave for president, Harding 188,649, Cox 173,722.

By the Associated Press
MUSKOGEE, Nov. 4.—Unofficial but complete returns from all of the 246 precincts in the second congressional district, gave Miss Alice Robertson, a plurality of 231 over W. W. Hastings, democrat candidate. The total vote as given was, Robertson 24,027, Hastings, 23,796.

By the Associated Press
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 4.—Forty-nine complete counties had reported when the senatorial tabulation was made at 1:30 o'clock, while 45 counties, complete, had reported on the presidential race.

The substantial gain in both contests was noted. Harding increasing his majority over Cox to nearly 15,000, while Harrel increased his lead over Ferris to 22,000.

Promiscuous concession by democratic leaders and politicians at the state capitol today gave the new house of representatives of the state legislature, a republican majority.

Democratic chiefs, who were considered conservative and well acquainted with the situation, declare that the house will show forty-three democrats and forty-nine republicans. This however was based mostly on the estimation of democratic followers of state returns.

With sixteen holdover democratic state senators out of twenty-two, it is claimed that twelve of the twenty-three democratic candidates has been elected. These same authorities predict that the senate will show a majority of five, twenty-eight democrats and seventeen republicans.

Milk Toast Diet Too Much for Her

"I doctored for years with only temporary relief. My liver was very bad after eating I would always have such a fullness in my stomach and my heart would palpitate. I could not eat milk toast without distressing me. Since taking a course of May's Wonderful Remedy, more than a year ago, I can eat anything my appetite desires." It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Red Cross and Charities Association Work Together

Readjustment of its home service program so as to place it on a co-operative basis with the United Charities Association was effected by the Pontotoc Chapter of the Red Cross at the annual meeting of the executive committee held this morning. Mrs. Orville Snead, executive secretary of the home service section, was authorized to act also as secretary of the charities association by arrangement with that body. This will enable her to render greater service to the soldiers and their families through the Red Cross, and to others in charities association.

In the election of officers, M. F. Manville was re-elected chairman of the executive committee for the ensuing year. J. E. Hickman was elected vice-chairman, and M. C. Wilson was elected treasurer. The committee, in re-appointing Mrs. Snead to serve as the chapter's secretary, heartily approved the good work she has done since becoming associated with the chapter here at the outbreak of the war. It was decided that the executive committee should be composed of nine members, and the following were named to serve for the next year: M. F. Manville, R. W. Simpson, J. E. Hickman, P. A. Norris, M. Levin, J. A. Smith, C. V. Gowing, W. M. Pegg, M. C. Wilson and W. C. Duncan.

The committee discussed ways and means of conducting the home service department so as to make possible the very best results. Members of the Red Cross executive committee also comprise the personnel of the charities to function together in giving aid and relief to the needy. The work done during the past year was reviewed and compared with the work of the previous years. It was found that there were not as many calls for help as during the other years, and this fact is attributed to the war, which caused distress at home as well as in those lands swept by hosts of battle.

The resignation of S. B. Dameron as secretary of the charities association was accepted by the association, which voted a resolution of thanks for the excellent work he has done among the people of Ada and vicinity. Mr. Dameron's unselfish service to others has endeared him to the people of this community, and the association regrets that his leaving here necessitates his resignation after years of service.

WILDCAT OIL WELL OPENS NEW FIELD

Wilcox Hits Gusher Near Bristow; Derrick
Burns.

BRISTOW, Nov. 4.—A wildcat oil well two and one-half miles southwest of Bristow, drilled by the H. F. Wilcox Oil and Gas company, hit a producing sand unexpectedly at 3,175 feet yesterday, flowed over the derrick, caught on fire and burned the derrick to the ground.

The well has been flowing every 20 minutes since the first flow and it is impossible to estimate its capacity. The wildcat is located in the southwest corner of the southeast of the southeast of section 35-16-8 and is from three to four miles from any proven territory, thus opening up a new pool that has attracted universal attention of oil men from this field.

Late today the owners of the new well were unable to say from what sand the well was flowing. Estimate of as high as 1,000 barrels are being made on the H. F. Wilcox Oil & Gas company wildcat test, two miles south and one west of Bristow in the southwest corner of the southeast of the southeast of section 36-16-8. It is flowing every 20 minutes from the sand encountered unexpectedly at 3,175 feet. The sand was found early this morning and before the forge, inside the derrick, could be put out, and the red hot bricks cooled, the well flowed on the forge, the oil catching on fire and burning down the derrick. Great excitement prevails throughout the Bristow neighborhood and it is branded the biggest strike since the Iron Mountain well was drilled in section 28-16-10.
